

Department of Education (DOE)

Q. How can I get my GED®?

A. The GED® is a computer based test. The GED® exam cannot be taken on the Internet. It can only be administered at one of the eight GED® test administration centers throughout the state. The tests sites are listed at <https://www.doe.k12.de.us/Page/2966>

The test consists of four subtests: Mathematical Reasoning (115 minutes); Reasoning Through Language Arts (150 minutes); Social Studies (70 minutes) and Science (90 minutes). The cost is $30 per subtest. To prepare for the test, a person can study independently or attend preparation classes. The location of free classes are available at <https://www.doe.k12.de.us/Page/2927>

Earning a GED® credential will increase job, skills training and postsecondary education opportunities.

Q. How can I complete my high school graduation requirements?

A. If you 16 or older and are no longer enrolled in a high school, the James H. Groves Adult High School can provide the courses needed to attain your high school diploma. Instruction is provided in a traditional high school setting or in a virtual setting through the Internet or through a hybrid format which includes traditional and distance learning. There is no age limit on who can attend. The Groves Centers can be found at <https://www.doe.k12.de.us/Page/2930> A high school diploma can increase employability and be a requirement for further skills training or entrance into a college.

Q. Where can I learn to speak English better?

A. For adult learners who want to become more proficient in English and increase their literacy skills, there are free English as a Second Language classes. The programs that have these classes are listed at <https://www.doe.k12.de.us/Page/2928>

Increasing your English skills can lead to more job options and increased opportunities to enter training or postsecondary programs.
